

Academic Presentation Skills

2. Juni 2022, 10:00–17:15 Uhr

Content

The lingua franca of science today is English and thus the advancement of an academic career usually involves speaking at conferences and holding presentations in English. This workshop is aimed at up-and-coming academics who are appearing at conferences. Participants will have the opportunity to perfect their presentation skills in English regarding such levels as body language, voice, pace, content and visualisation.

Topics

- Importance of cultural styles in academic presentations
- Meeting the needs of your audience
- Creating slides
- Holding people's interest

Methods

- Short presentations by the participants
- Example presentation
- Theoretical input
- Discussion
- Feedback by the trainer
- Peer-Feedback

Trainer

Dr. Sonja Price is an English native speaker and a trainer in the field of Intercultural Business Communication. She is a member of the research staff at the Jena University.

Note

The workshop will be held in English. Please prepare a short presentation (10 minutes) and bring it to the workshop.
